

PRESS RELEASE

COMSOFT and eB2Bcom sign Strategic Cooperation Agreement for the global Aeronautical Message Handling System sector.

Karlsruhe Germany, and Melbourne Australia, 20 July 2009: COMSOFT, the German headquartered ATC supplier, and eB2Bcom of Australia, innovative developer of discovery server technologies, will align their activities regarding the development and sales of AMHS related products to the global aviation market.

eB2Bcom is the developer of the renowned ViewDS high speed identity and messaging repository, and has pioneered world-leading searching and matching technology unique in its sector. COMSOFT is the leading global supplier of Aeronautical Message Handling System (AMHS) solutions.

As of 20 July COMSOFT and eB2Bcom will work together on cutting edge features for the market. eB2Bcom will concentrate on the further technical development of the ViewDS ATN directory solutions for the aviation industry. The outstanding features of the ViewDS technology led COMSOFT to select it to be a component of their flagship AIDA-NG product which is the leading AMHS product in the market.

Manfred Schmid, Managing Director of COMSOFT said that this partnership of two innovative technology leaders will target the global implementation of the ATN directory and the AMHS Extended Services. He expects a surge in customer support quality because of the technically superior products that will be implemented.

Bob White, CEO of eB2Bcom. "We have been working closely for some months with COMSOFT as they exhaustively evaluated the ViewDS technology, and we are delighted that our technology surpassed their exacting requirements. ViewDS will be embedded into COMSOFT's AMHS to provide the functionality specified by the ICAO. We are very excited about the relationship, the global potential for both of our companies, and the export revenues it will generate for Australian technology".
